Dominican University, a Catholic, liberal arts university makes its home in River Forest, Illinois, a beautiful, tree-lined suburb just 20 minutes west of downtown Chicago (which is easily accessible by car or public transportation). The 3,200 students (2200 undergraduates) have the advantage of living in a quiet, safe and prestigious suburb, while being so close to the many first-rate cultural, entertainment, and internship opportunities which the City offers. The historic village of Oak Park, hometown of Ernest Hemingway and Frank Lloyd Wright, is our bordering town.

Dominican emphasizes experiential learning through outstanding research, internship, study-abroad, and community-based learning opportunities. Classes are engaging, interactive, and average just 16 students. 100% of the classes are taught by professors - not teaching assistants.

Dominican was one of the first two colleges in the US to offer overseas study, and currently offers programs in England, Ireland, France, Italy, Austria, Spain, Ghana, Cuba, as well as several others. Dominican is consistently rated as a Top Tier Regional University and a "Best Value" by US News and World Report and Money Magazine. With strong student retention, graduation rates, and outcomes, a solid return on investment is the hallmark of Dominican's success.
